DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE
This unusual 1 1/2 story frame house is situated on a large farm on McKendree Road. The structure is small and in poor condition but it has an interesting form seldom seen in this region. The house faces south with a screened porch (recent date) extending across the front. The steeply sloped A-roof above the porch has two shed dormers. The roofs of the dormers begin just below the ridge of the main roof and they cover tall, narrow 4/4 pane windows. The north side of the main roof is dormerless, and has a long, more gradual slope. It covers a row of tiny cell rooms. There is a chimney on the west end, centered at the roof ridge, which serves the first floor room. Another chimney on the east end of the house serves the cell rooms. The windows are irregularly placed. Most have 4/4 pane sashes. The front door, under the porch is in the center and has a window on either side. The building is sheathed in rough siding bearing vertical saw marks. The house has been occupied by the same tenants for over 50 years.
